

Code of Conduct for Members

1.0 Application

- 1.1 This code applies to you whenever you are acting in your capacity as a member of this authority and it is your responsibility to comply with the provisions of this Code.
- 1.2 You are a representative of this authority and the public will view you as such therefore your actions impact on how the authority as a whole is viewed and your actions can have both positive and negative impacts on the authority.
- 1.3 The Code is based upon the 'Nolan Principles – the seven principles of public life' which are set out as Appendix 1.

2.0 Interpretation

- 2.1 In this Code –

“meeting” means any meeting of:

- (a) the authority;
- (b) the executive of the authority;
- (c) any of the authority's or its executive's committees, sub-committees, joint committees, joint sub-committees, or area committees;

whether or not the press and public are excluded from the meeting in question by virtue of a resolution of members.

“member” includes a co-opted member and an appointed member.

3.0 General Conduct

- 3.1 The Code applies to you whenever you are acting in your capacity as a member of the Council, including:
 - (a) at formal meetings of the Council, Executive, Committees and Sub-Committee, Joint Committees, Panels or Working Groups.
 - (b) when acting as a representative of the authority.
 - (c) in taking any decisions as an Executive Member or Ward Councillor.
 - (d) in discharging your functions as a Ward Councillor.
 - (e) at briefing meetings with officers.
 - (f) at site visits.

(g) when corresponding with the authority (other than in a private capacity).

3.2 When acting in your role as a member of the authority:

(a) do treat others with respect and not bully any person.

(b) do provide leadership to the authority by personal example.

(c) do not conduct yourself in a manner which is likely to bring the authority into disrepute.

(d) do use your position as a member in the public interest and not for personal advantage.

(e) do not disclose information given to you in confidence by anyone, or information acquired by you which you believe, or ought reasonably to be aware, is of a confidential nature, except where:

(i) you have the consent of a person authorised to give it;

(ii) you are required by law to do so

(iii) the disclosure is made to a third party for the purpose of obtaining professional legal advice provided that the third party agrees not to disclose the information to any other person; or

(iv) the disclosure is:

a. reasonable and in the public interest

b. made in good faith and in compliance with the reasonable requirements of the authority; and

c. you have consulted with the Monitoring Officer prior to its release if appropriate

(f) do not prevent another person from gaining access to information to which that person is entitled to by law.

(g) when using or authorising the use by others of the resources of the authority:

1. Do act in accordance with the authority's reasonable requirements including the requirements of the authority's ICT policy, copies of which have been provided to you and you are deemed to have read;

2. Do make sure that such resources are not used improperly for political purposes (including party political purposes); and

3. Do have regard to any applicable Local Authority Code of Publicity made under the Local Government Act 1986.

3.2.1 In politics, rival groupings are common, either in formal political parties or more informal alliances. It is expected that members will campaign for their ideas, and may also seek to discredit the policies and actions of their opponents. Criticism of ideas and opinion is part of the democratic debate, and does not in itself amount to failing to treat someone with respect.

3.3 Ideas and politics may be robustly criticised, but individuals should not be subject to personal attacks. This particularly applies when dealing with the public and officers.

4.0 Bullying and Harassment

4.1 You must not bully, harass or intimidate any person. This is completely unacceptable and will be considered to be a breach of the Code.

4.2 Harassment, bullying, discrimination, intimidation and victimisation (either directly or indirectly) are unacceptable and should not be tolerated. It is important to recognise the impact such behaviour can have on any individual experiencing it, as well as the wider organisation in terms of morale and effectiveness.

4.3 Bullying is inappropriate and unwelcome behaviour which is offensive and intimidating and which makes an individual or group feel undermined humiliated or insulted. It is the impact of the behaviour rather than the intent which is the key.

4.4 Bullying usually arises as a result of an individual misusing their power and can occur through all means of communication. Bullying can be a pattern of behaviour or can be a one-off serious incident that becomes objectionable or intimidating.

4.5 Examples of bullying behaviour are set out below (these are not exhaustive):

- unwelcome physical, verbal or non-verbal contact
- intimidating behaviour including verbal abuse or the making of threats
- making someone's work life difficult
- disparaging, ridiculing or mocking comments and remarks
- physical violence

4.6 Harassment is any unwelcome behaviour or conduct which makes someone feel offended, humiliated, intimidated, frightened and/or uncomfortable. Harassment can be experienced directly or indirectly and can occur as an isolated incident or as a course of persistent behaviour.

4.7 As a Councillor you should be aware of the inherent influence your role brings and ensure that you are demonstrating respect for others and encouraging colleagues to do the same.

- 4.8 Where you have witnessed bullying and harassment you have a responsibility to speak out. You should challenge inappropriate behaviour as it happens and consider making a complaint.
- 4.9 As with bullying, even if the behaviour is unintentional, it can still be classed as a form of harassment. Harassment can occur through verbal or written comments, including those made online. Examples of harassment are set out below (these are not exhaustive):
- unwelcome physical contact such as touching or invading 'personal space'
 - inappropriate remarks or questioning such as comments about someone's appearance, lewd comments and offensive jokes (such as those of a racist, sexual or sectarian nature)
 - intrusive questioning for example on sexual orientation, religious or political beliefs (either directly or with others)
 - sending unwelcoming and/or inappropriate emails, messages or notes, circulating or displaying explicit or inappropriate images
- 4.10 Your specific duties as a Councillor:
- you should behave in accordance with the Code in all situations where you act as a councillor or are perceived as acting as a councillor, including representing the Council on official business and when using social media
 - you should treat all individuals with respect when carrying out your duties as a Councillor. You should not participate in, or condone, acts of harassment, discrimination, victimisation or bullying

5.0 Use of Social Media

- 5.1 The use of Social Media (Twitter, Facebook, blogs etc) is a very effective tool for Councillors to communicate with their local communities, and taking part in social networks and interactive activity online is now a majority activity which will certainly grow.
- 5.2 The Council has a Social Media Policy which members should be familiar with and sets out how to use social media in a positive way and how to avoid pitfalls.
- 5.3 There is a difference between communicating on behalf of the Council on social media and as a private citizen, and the former will be held to a higher standard than the latter.
- 5.4 The key to whether your online activity is subject to the Code is whether you are giving the impression that you are acting as a Councillor.
- 5.5 The Code of Conduct applies equally to your online activity in the same way it applies to other verbal communication or face to face meetings.

These provisions are enforced by criminal sanction.

1 Notification of disclosable pecuniary interests

Within 28 days of becoming a member or co-opted member, you must notify the Monitoring Officer of any 'disclosable pecuniary interests'.

A 'disclosable pecuniary interest' is an interest of yourself or your partner (which means spouse or civil partner, a person with whom you are living as husband or wife, or a person with whom you are living as if you are civil partners) within the following descriptions: (In the extracts from the Regulations below, 'M' means you and 'relevant person' means you and your partner, as above)

Any interests notified to the Monitoring Officer will be included in the register of interests. A copy of the register will be available for public inspection and will be published on the authority's website.

3 Sensitive interests

Where you consider that disclosure of the details of a disclosable pecuniary interest could lead to you, or a person connected with you, being subject to violence or intimidation, and the Monitoring Officer agrees, if the interest is entered on the register, copies of the register that are made available for inspection and any published version of the register will exclude details of the interest, but may state that you have a disclosable pecuniary interest, the details of which are withheld under Section 32(2).

4 Non participation in case of disclosable pecuniary interest
